

© 2005 AE, LLC
© 2005 GDT, Inc

Named for the late Secretary of State John Dulles, the airport opened in 1962 to ease the growing post WWII demand for air travel. During early years, the airport served two to three million passengers; in 2005, twenty-seven million passed through the airport.